THE OLD.

By HON. RODEN NOEL.

Hon. Roden Berkley Wriothesley was born in 1824; died in 1894. He was the son a the earl of Gainaborough. He spent much of his poetical life in Ireland. He was a graduate of Cambridge. Besides volumes of poetry he wrote critical biographical and philose phical essays.

This poem is also called "Dying."

HEY are waiting on the shore
For the bark to take them home;
They will toll and grieve no more;
The hour for release hath come.

All their long life lies behind, Like a dimly blending dream; There is nothing left to bind To the realms that only seem.

They are waiting for the boat; There is nothing left to do: What was near them grows remote, Happy silence falls like dew; Now the shadowy bark is come, And the weary may go home.

By still water they would rest In the shadow of the tree: After hattle sleep is best, After noise, tranquility.
